PRESS RELEASE 09 / 2023

Top-class jury nominates SECURER breathing mask for the German Medical Award

The SECURER high-tech respiratory mask was nominated for the German Medical Award in October 2023 by a top-class jury as well as an advisory board consisting of chief physicians, senior physicians, specialists, professors and specialist lawyers under the scientific leadership of Prof. Dr. Christian Perings and Prof. Dr. Georg Sabin.

The SECURER respiratory mask is a particularly lightweight, electronic respiratory protection that not only filters all currently known and future viruses with the help of an integrated UVC LED light disinfection, but also kills them 100% and also verifiably cleans the breathing air to 99.999% of bacteria and other harmful air particles.

The German Medical Award is the leading medical & medical management award in Germany, Austria and Switzerland and honors physicians, as well as companies from the health care sector, who distinguish themselves through innovative concepts and products, as well as a constant striving for improvement of care performance for the benefit of patients.

"We are very pleased about the nomination of our high-tech breathing mask SECURER for the German Medical Award. We were able to convince the top-class jury as well as the scientific advisory board of our transparent mask which works with light disinfection, hardly touches the face, is reusable and the technology is rechargeable. This nomination is very important for us, because each of these experts is part of our target group, which consists of professional users from the healthcare sector, currently around 6 million people in Germany." says Arno Lauhöfer, Managing Director of SecureAir GmbH.
